THE INCREDIBLE JOURNEY

Bill and Bertie Hankin are taking the trip to follow in the footsteps of their mother and father, who were on the run from officials in the 1950s. The brothers plan to leave later this month.

BY MARIJKE COX

TWO brothers from Dover are retracing the steps of their parents on a 10,000-mile expedition to Singapore.

Bill and Bertie Hankin are taking the trip to follow in the footsteps of their mother and father, who were on the run from officials in the 1950s.

The brothers will leave Dover in mid-December in a white Oldsmobile, a model of the car their father loved, and will journey through Afghanistan, Iraq, Iran and other Middle Eastern countries.

Bertie said: "We are extremely excited about the trip. Although we've travelled a lot over the years, this really will be a journey of a lifetime."

"We're not sure how long it's going to take. I really want to take it slowly as there is so much we want to see, but that obviously depends on commitments that we have at home."

Their mother was a Dutch Indonesian named Feyte and came from a royal blood line and their father was an Australian called William, nicknamed Buccaneer Bill.

The unlikely couple met in a post office in Singapore at the end of World War Two.

Feyte had survived a Japanese prison camp and wanted to escape her overbearing father.

Unknown to her, William was rumoured to have murdered a man and was carrying a bag of diamonds and had to leave Singapore.

They left the country together by road and travelled to England via the Middle East.

Bertie said: "We must leave before January 1 as that will correspond to the time my mother left 50 years ago. She is buried in Kuala Lumpur now."

The expedition also has modern-day relevance for Bill and Bertie, who are hoteliers in Dover and met many asylum seekers, some of whom they plan to meet up with. Reunions will be filmed, with footage viewable on www.salaam.demon.co.uk.

HIDDEN: The fortifications at the Western Heights have been used to protect Dover since 1808

Plans to guard future of the secret castle

■ BY NICK AMES

EVERYONE knows of Dover Castle – one of the most important historical sites in Britain and built to repel invaders from across the sea.

But the town has another impressive fortification which is not nearly so famous – and which was built to halt any attack from inland.

The Dover Western Heights has been dubbed “the secret castle”, although it is readily accessible and open to the public free of charge via a narrow tunnel to the moat.

Plans are being drawn up by environmental and historical groups, as well as representatives of local authorities, to protect the future of the structure.

A spokesman for the interested parties said: “This fortification is one of the most impressive of its kind in Britain and we want to preserve it for future generations.

“It is an important part of Dover's heritage, which deserves to be far more widely known than it is.”

The main part of the fort is known as the Drop Redoubt, which was designed and built in the early 19th century to house artillery.

But, unusually for a coastal defence installation, the guns pointed inland. The feeling was that any attack – with the French the most likely aggressors – would come from the rear of the town after an enemy landing along the flat coast of Romney Marsh.

Construction of the original fort was finished by 1808, but it was added to just over 50 years later when further fears of invasion came about.

At its peak the fortress was garrisoned by 200 soldiers, but this number was gradually reduced as fears of an attack receded.

Troops were stationed at the Western Heights during both world wars. During the 1939-45 conflict a secret squad of commandos was based there, with the job of destroying Dover harbour in the event of an invasion, to prevent its facilities from falling into Nazi hands.

Nice idea gives mums a place to take a break

Crèche-cum-coffee shop hits the spot

A UNIQUE coffee shop and crèche combination has proved a business bonanza for four young mums.

All Things Nice was the brainchild of Debbie Philpott and friends who just wanted a place to sit down and have a hot drink while their children played in safety.

"There was just nowhere for us to go," said Debbie, from Sandwich.

"So we got together one day and thought – it's up to us to start something."

What began as a chat around the dinner table is now a thriving business after cash was raised, premises found and decorators bought in.

Debbie explained: "We realised we were probably not the only people in this situation."

"So we decided we'd set up a café and play area – to our knowledge it's unique, certainly to this area.

■ BY NICK AMES

"We all pooled our cash – found premises and then started to stock up and decorate."

The café in Sandwich town centre has been running for several months and is attracting custom from all over east Kent.

As well as snacks, hot drinks and ice creams, there is a range of books, games and toys for young children.

"We wanted the whole place to be completely child friendly," said Debbie, who manages the establishment alongside business partner Maggie Newgreen, one of the original investors.

"So we have gone for really bright colours in the décor, it's very light and airy inside and we ensure we stock as much local produce as we can. There is a children's menu as well which is proving very popular – we have made sure it is as healthy as possible.

"It's all very relaxed, the children mix and mingle and the adults sit and chat in comfort, secure in the knowledge that their toddlers are in a safe and secure environment."

The reputation of All Things Nice has spread to the extent that it is now a popular place for childminders to bring their charges.

"We don't want the children to get too hyper as that would spoil the atmosphere, so the games and toys tend to be ones which require a bit of thought and concentration," said Debbie.

"We knew we had reached out to people when we heard some of our customers saying their children had said 'Mum, can we go to Debbie's?'"

Latest charity research highlights increase in people sleeping rough

A CHARITY'S research has highlighted an increase in the number of people sleeping rough in the county.

East Kent Cyrenians, which works across east Kent to provide outreach and resettlement services for homeless people, went out on Wednesday, November 21 to count the number of people sleeping on the streets.

Gill Bryant, outreach operations manager for EKC, said: "In every area we found an increase in the numbers of people sleeping rough, and these figures support the increase our outreach team is working with on a daily basis".

The charity works with the local authorities to co-ordinate the counts in Dover, Thanet, Shepway, Ashford and Canterbury.

In Dover, seven people were found sleeping rough but there was evidence of two more; in Thanet, three were seen sleeping on the streets but again there was evidence of two more.

Canterbury had the highest amount of rough sleepers, with eight, although evidence suggested there was up to 14 more.

■ BY MARIJKE COX

In Folkestone, one person was found sleeping rough but it is believed there are two others.

No rough sleepers were found in Ashford and no evidence suggested anyone was sleeping on the streets.

Mike Barrett, EKC chief executive, said: "This count doesn't show the whole picture, as we never find all the people we know are rough sleeping and it doesn't record people who are homeless but not sleeping on the street".

EKC team has drop-in sessions and maintains a street presence, building up trust and helping rough sleepers access further support and accommodation.

There has been a steady increase in the number of people the team are supporting.

In 2005/6 they worked with 144 new clients, whereas in just seven months of this year, they dealt with 199 new clients.

Town is full of Christmas Cheer

DOVER town is being turned into a winter wonderland for its Christmas Cheer event.

Festivities will start at 10am on Saturday, December 15, and run through until 4pm.

Reindeer, snow machines and ice-men statues will turn Biggin Street into a Christmas-card scene, with entertainment going on all day.

Juggling elves, Morris dancers and stilt walkers will be among the festivities taking place between the town hall and the Market Square. Refreshments will be on offer and free mince pies and mulled wine will be served.

Fairtrade products can be bought from one of the stalls, and those with a sweeter tooth can buy doughnuts and candy-floss from street sellers.

The Christmas Cheer event is being organised by Dover Town Council.

Police campaign makes big impact

A CAMPAIGN set up by Kent police to tackle anti-social behaviour has proved a huge success, with a drop in damage and violence on the streets.

Extra officers were patrolling the streets of Dover and Deal for the Safer Autumn campaign, which ran during the half-term, Halloween and firework night period.

This has led to a 17.4 per cent drop in criminal damage and anti-social behaviour, with 110 fewer reported cases this year in comparison with last year.

Chief Inspector Roy Cottam, district commander for the Dover district, said: "I am very pleased with the Safer Autumn results. The high-visibility and early-intervention patrols by my officers were very successful."

Officers attended 70 incidents and stop-checked 356 young people.

PUPILS SEND LOVE IN A BOX

Dover College pupils joined in with the Love in a Box project to send gifts to Ukrainian children at Christmas.

Pupils were asked to fill up shoe boxes wrapped in Christmas paper with toys and clothes for boys and girls of all different ages.

More than 100 boxes were filled with toys, scarves, hats and gloves ready to go to the children.

The school were pleased with how many boxes were sent to disadvantaged children in Ukraine and praised the children who took part in the project.

Love in a Box started several years ago as a way of sharing the joy of Christmas with children from underprivileged countries.

The initiative allows children from the UK to get involved with helping others at a grass roots level.

Dover College has taken part in the charity scheme in past years, but this year proved to be the most successful.

Invicta FM's Ali Wheeler confesses to what really gets her going DOVER can set the environmental standard for other towns in the country, according to a Government minister.

Another award for the Pines Calyx, presented at the end of last month, has shown the district's commitment to sustainable living.

UK Fisheries Minister Jonathan Shaw paid a visit to the award-winning building in the Pines Gardens of St Margaret's Bay.

He presented the project director, Alistair Gould, with a commemoration plaque at the end of the visit.

Mr Gould said: "The Pines Calyx is a show-and-tell project promoting sustainability. There were 80 of us on the team and we wanted to show people what can be done rather than just tell them."

■ BY MARIJKE COX

Already boasting a number of prestigious awards, the Calyx has been designed to blend into its surroundings as well as provide a sustainable events venue.

Located within an Area of Outstanding Beauty, designers used 'rammed chalk' instead of the usual energy-expensive brick and concrete to construct the building.

This chalk was excavated when levelling the site and so no energy was used in the transport of materials. The heating and ventilation has also been designed to consume less energy as these factors account for half the total energy consumption which is linked to carbon dioxide emissions.

Mr Shaw said: "The Pines Calyx has won awards due to its low energy use, sustainability, its attractiveness and the fact it is fully functional. We hope this will set the standard for other places in the country.

"Dover is promoting a sustainable community, not only with this particular feature, but with plans to develop Connaught Barracks."

Gwyn Prosser, MP for Dover and Deal, also attended the visit. He said: "The Pines Calyx is a near-zero carbon conference and training centre."

"It has been developed as a sustainable hub, inspiring, informing, educating and communicating grassroots responses to the challenge of climate change and providing a new and innovative model for sustainable living."

The main principles for sustainable buildings are that they should be energy-efficient, suitable to meet changing needs.

As an events venue the Calyx has three meeting rooms to cater for a range of functions, including conferences and celebrations.

Prosser urged to drop his support of ID cards

DOVER district's Liberal Democrat leader says MP Gwyn Prosser should stop supporting the introduction of ID cards after the loss of 25 million child benefit records.

Cllr Clive Meredith said: "It's time for him to change his mind and stop supporting the introduction of identity cards."

"The fiasco at the Revenue, which lost the data, has shown the dangers of the Government holding huge amounts of information about each one of us while being slipshod in the way that information is kept."

In response, Mr Prosser, Labour MP for Dover and Deal, said: "The Revenue and Customs loss of data was an inexcusable failure by HMRC to comply with its own data protection procedures."

"It was a serious lapse in security, but it's nonsense to suggest this failure should persuade the Government to abandon its ID card programme."

"The greatest threat from the loss of data is the criminal use of it for identity fraud – the use of the new cards and data bank will enable us to be sure that the person using information for a transaction is the person entitled to do so, by virtue of the biometric identifiers."

From 2008, everyone over the age of 16 applying for a passport will have their details added to the National Identity Register.

In 2009, the first identity cards will be issued, although for two years people can opt out of having one, but by 2010 anyone renewing or getting a passport will have to get one.

The card will contain basic identification as well as a microchip holding biometric information such as fingerprints, iris or facial scans. ID cards are being introduced by the Government to give people a way of proving who they are, boosting national security, tackling identity fraud and preventing illegal work.

Mr Prosser said: "Biometric ID cards will help protect our borders and I wholly support their introduction."

The Conservative and Liberal Democrat parties oppose plans for ID cards and the House of Lords also rejected proposals five times before agreeing on the compromise deal allowing the opt-out from 2008.

Cllr Meredith said: "The National Identity Register, which the Government is setting up as part of the identity card scheme, will hold vastly more information on each and every one of us than Customs and Revenue managed to lose."

"This whole saga has been shocking and families are now asking whether their personal details are safe."

Town council offices the place to get wed

MAISON DIEU HOUSE in Dover can now be used as a venue for weddings.

Two members of staff modelled bridal wear to promote the town council offices as a wedding venue.

One wedding has already been held and numerous others have been booked following the launch of the service. As well as its 350-year history the building offers many facilities used to host weddings.

DROP IN AND TAKE A BREAK

EASTRY Coffee Break has been praised as an example of strengthening communities in the district. Charlie Elphicke, Conservative candidate for Dover and Deal, said: "The drop-in centre is run by the parish and is a place for people to go to enjoy good company and strengthen the community bond. In these days it is a great example of how we can strengthen our communities. It was great fun to get round and chat to everybody."

Coffee Break is held every Friday morning in Eastry village hall from 9.30am until noon.

Help put your boss behind bars

WORKERS in east Kent are being given the chance to have their bosses 'arrested' for a good cause.

The Stroke Association is appealing for employees to 'shop their boss' in a fundraising event called Jail and Bail in Sandwich on Tuesday, December 18.

Bosses from businesses in the town will be handcuffed and cautioned at their place of work before being transported by British Transport Police to be incarcerated in 'jail' – the Old Courtroom at Sandwich Guildhall.

Fingerprints and mugshots will be taken and they will be sentenced to the hard labour of contacting friends, family and colleagues to raise £500 'bail' for their release.

Felons will be greeted by the Mayor of Sandwich, Cllr Joe Trussler, and rewarded for good behaviour with a Champagne lunch.

All funds raised will go to The Stroke Association.

A spokesman for The Stroke Association said: "Each year around 150,000 people in the UK will have a stroke. It's the UK's third biggest killer and a leading cause of severe adult disability".

Football legend takes daughter to court to claim back trophies

FORMER goalkeeper Neville Southall left his teenage daughter in tears after taking her to court to get back £55,000 of his trophies, it was reported this week.

The former Everton and Wales star, who now plays locally around his new home town of Deal, gave 19-year-old Samantha his FA Cup medal – won when his star performance thwarted Manchester United in 1995.

He also handed her other medals, international caps and his MBE when she was just 10 years old.

But Southall who played in an England Legends charity game at the weekend never meant her to keep them, a court in Liverpool was told.

Devastated

Samantha, whose father walked out on her and her mother a decade ago, sobbed as a “sad-dened” judge at the city’s civil and family court told her to return the soccer memorabilia.

The “devastated” law student, who said she “idolised” her father, was also told she had to pay £6,000 costs.

Southall was not at the hearing, but his lawyer said: “He is pleased the matter’s been resolved.”

Southall played for a number of clubs but was most strongly tied to Everton. He won almost 100 international caps for Wales but now plays as a forward for Bulls Fossils FC in the Dover and District Sunday League.

QUESTION & ANSWER

CHARLIE ELPHICKE

Q What made you want to stand as candidate for the Conservative party in Dover and Deal?

A The most important things to me are opportunity and success. Ours is a great community, but there is a shared sense that we could be greater still. Realising our potential and making east Kent as successful and prosperous as west Kent – even London – is my long-term goal. We've got so much going for us, like our location as the gateway to England, beautiful countryside, a strong road network and a highly trained workforce. I want to see us all really make it happen.

Q What are your favourite things to do in the area?

A Spending time on the seafront with my family, talking to people about what they want to see happen, and working to make things better.

Q Some people have negative opinions about Dover. Do you think they are justified?

A No.

Q Is there anything you would like to see changed that you think would make Dover a better place to live?

A We need to sort out Townwall Street, upgrade the shopping centre and secure a future for local hospital-based healthcare. That way we can get more tourism, jobs and success, making Dover an even greater place to live and work.

Q What attractions do you think are most popular in Dover and Deal?

A My wife Natalie and the kids love the excellent swimming facilities in both towns – especially water slides. Eating out is always a great experience and the golf courses, seafronts and port all attract so many people to the area.

We need to get them to stay longer and spend more. For me there is nothing like that feeling of pride I get when travelling back from France and seeing the white cliffs loom ever larger as Dover approaches.

Q Is there anything that you don't particularly like about the area?

A People who complain that nothing can be improved and it's all a waste of time trying. If we don't believe in ourselves, no one else will. If we fight together for what we all want to see, we can do it. For me, that goes for upgrading the hospitals in Dover and Deal, saving our post offices, reforming the police so they can tackle anti-social behaviour, and getting more jobs and money for our area. Look at how much Dover council has been doing and you can see what can be done by those who are passionate and have vision.

Q Do you find it rewarding being the Conservative parliamentary candidate for Dover and Deal?

A It's the best thing in the world. This constituency is marginal. I'll only get elected if I win the trust of the people. I'd only hold it if I kept the trust of the people.

I like that – I'd hate to become an arrogant, old and tired sort of person. Taking this constituency for granted or being out of touch is simply not an option for me. I believe that reality would help me be a more effective MP for our community and keep me on my toes.

Q What are you campaigning on in Dover and Deal right now?

A The decision to close six post offices locally was a real shock. They are so important to community life and provide a much-needed service to all – especially for the elderly and the disabled. To me, this is the decision-making of the madhouse, so we've launched a parliamentary petition to get a change of Government mind. The response has been amazing. We've been deluged.

Q What would you do about local hospitals?

A Everyone I meet worries that Buckland Hospital in Dover is going to close. Meanwhile, Deal Victoria has fewer beds. So I've put forward a plan to get existing Health Department money to upgrade community hospital care.

My plan sees these hospitals providing X-rays and diagnostics, outpatients, urgent care, care beds and day surgery. Local health chiefs already plan to provide these services from existing budgets – I'm making the case that they be run from local community hospitals which people locally want. It's really important to keep care as close to the community as possible.

Charlie Elphicke, Conservative parliamentary candidate for Dover and Deal, talks to Marijke Cox about his love of the area and why his bid to represent the constituency is 'the best thing in the world'

furniture for life

The latest plasma screens have revolutionised television viewing, but the sheer size of these enormous units means they tend to dominate their environment. The answer to the problem comes in the form of magnificent, elevating cabinets which will definitely enhance rather than detract from your living space. The cabinets are available in traditional mahogany and yew as well as the latest contemporary natural oak. Your DVD player and VCR are stowed beneath the television and there is ample storage for DVDs and cassettes – and all hidden away behind the elegant veneered doors. The television itself is raised up by an ingenious, virtually silent mechanism operated by remote control. # Award-winning papers for you

KENT ON SUNDAY has scooped another major industry award.

The Newspaper Society named KoS as Britain's best free weekly newspaper at a prestigious awards ceremony on Thursday evening.

Judges said the title was packed with news, views and advertising and "was so good you would expect to have to pay for it".

This is the seventh time KoS has won a UK free newspaper of the year award.

Yourthanet, which is one of eight new local papers launched by KOS Media in September, also picked up an award for best advert in a free newspaper.

The advert formed part of a campaign for Miles & Barr estate agents, after it won Kent Company of The Year 2007, and was designed by KOS Media's Anna Harman and the company's marketing team.

Chris Britcher won a silver award for Britain's best sports journalist in recognition of his work for Kent on Sunday.

Mr Britcher is now editor of Yourashford, Yourcanterbury and Yoursware (Faversham). KOS Media managing director Paul Stannard said: "It is great to see our media being recognised again at a national level.

"This is great for the county's national profile and it is pleasing to see some of our individuals singled out for their talent."

Kent on Sunday editor Bernard Ginns said: "We have an excellent team here at KOS Media and we all work hard to provide the good people of Kent with a quality free news service. It was also very pleasing to see one of our new midweek titles winning an award."

The Kent Messenger Group won a bronze award for Best Paid-For Weekly Newspaper in the South East.

WINNERS: Chris Britcher won silver for sports journalist of the year, Kent on Sunday won free newspaper of the year and Yourthanet won an award for best advert in a free paper. Editor Bernard Ginns (above right) is pleased with the success.

The Newspaper Society represents all Britain's local and regional papers and websites. This year's competition had one of the highest ever number of entries.

Joanna to support our wildlife trust

ACTRESS Joanna Lumley has agreed to help publicise the work of Kent Wildlife Trust by taking on the role of patron next year.

The charity is also celebrating its 50th anniversary in 2008.

Lumley, who made her stage debut in 1972 at Canterbury's Marlowe Theatre, is a keen environmentalist.

She has also starred in TV series The New Avengers and Sapphire and Steel, but has become best known for her man-hungry party girl role as Patsy Stone in BBC classic comedy Absolutely Fabulous.

Lumley, who has lived near both Canterbury and Tenterden in the past, said: "I am proud and delighted to support Kent Wildlife Trust as its patron in this, its 50th year.

"The progress and achievements the Trust has made over the years are hugely impressive."

Trust chairman Fidelity Wilson added: "I had the pleasure of meeting Joanna recently when we discussed our many exciting and ambitious plans for the year and how she may become involved.

"She demonstrated great passion and enthusiasm for wildlife, and is sure to be a great ambassador for the Trust in 2008."

Family want you to keep your buddies safe

THE family of murdered Lucie Blackman is hoping to help others avoid her fate by launching a new safety device.

The BuddySafe key fob, which is activated by a button, sends a text, email and voice message from the user's mobile phone that says "HELP" to loved ones. Using Bluetooth technology, the discreet device also sends out information about the user's location.

Miss Blackman, a bar hostess from Sevenoaks, was murdered in 2001 in Japan, aged just 21. A 54-year-old Japanese businessman, Joji Obara, was later cleared of her murder but convicted of raping nine others, one of whom died.

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in Dover...

We will all be guilty if Big Brother has his way

I DON'T know about everyone else but personally, the Government's plan to issue us all with ID cards makes me less comfortable than Winston Smith in a pet shop specialising in rats.

Orwellian clichés aside, I find the prospect of an eye scanning, voice recognizing, and fingerprint analysing world rather uncomfortable, not to mention unhygienic.

I've heard the arguments; for the terminally absent minded it might be better to have only one important document to lose... until you lose it that is.

And of course, there's the old chestnut if you haven't done anything wrong, you've got nothing to fear.

Well, maybe not, but it's really not about having nothing to fear is it? This isn't the schoolroom where nobody goes home until the person who released crickets in assembly owns up.

Shouldn't we be asking instead: "If I haven't done anything wrong, why the interest?"

Like most law abiding citizens, bar a few parking tickets and occasional determined nakedness, my criminal intentions are pretty much zero.

But still, the Government would like a comprehensive database including biometric data, personal details, pet's name and favourite colour.

Why? Just in case?

By pushing this scheme, it's as if the Government assumes we are all closet criminal masterminds, Dick Dastardly style characters who sit at home twirling our waxed mustaches, talking to our dogs and cooking up ingenious ways to beat a selection of bizarre vehicles in a comedy endurance race.

Ok, this analogy has gone astray, but the point is that one of the central tenets of English law is innocent until proven guilty.

Innocent people do not deserve to have their eyes scanned when they go shopping.

Already our lives are monitored in a way that has simply not been possible in the past, and ID cards represent another nail in the coffin for privacy and personal freedom.

It's almost as if the law is shifting towards innocent, as long as you can prove it.

Aside from the proven inaccuracy of current statistical biometrics, the outrageous cost to the tax payer and the seemingly inevitable Home Office cock-ups, keeping track of everybody in this way is just wrong.

I've spent time in countries like Cuba and China where police can demand citizens' papers for simply being out on the street. It is a genuinely disturbing experience, and it's not something we should be trying to emulate.

A national ID database, on which we are all numbers to be shared and collated is an anathema, an affront not only to our individual identity, but to our national identity too.

TALK TIME

TREVOR BOND

The Ramada Hotel's sales and marketing manager lives in Deal. He is a Dover district councillor and Deal town councillor.

You moved from Melbourne in Australia to Kent in 1996. Are you glad you made the move?

Yes, I really love Deal. It's a great place to live. One of the things I love is that I can walk to the town from where I live – in Australia you have to drive to most places. The only thing I miss about Australia is the sunshine and the food.

Can you tell me what you do at the Ramada?

I work in sales and marketing.

What is your favourite thing about the job?

It's great working in the tourist industry, everyone is always so happy. The Ramada is also a great place to work and the only four-star hotel in the district. If you have a good product to sell, then it makes the job a lot easier and with the Ramada being so good it makes my job enjoyable.

If there was anything you could change about the area, what would it be?

It would be a combination of things, but the main thing I would like to see is people being a lot more positive about Dover. There is far too much negativity and yet Dover has so much to offer. As well as having a hotel such as the Ramada, it has so much history and is the gateway to Europe. People really should start thinking positively, especially with all the plans for the area. There is so much to be proud of and the sooner people realise that the better.

YOUR LETTERS

Cemetery tree is a prickly issue

I was horrified to find in Spring Lane cemetery, Seabrook, that a large yellow-berried holly tree had for no apparent reason been cut down.

I have watched this holly grow over 18 years from a small bush into a beautiful tree which gave food and shelter to many birds – but sadly no more.

Shepway council was not aware or responsible for this act of damage, but apparently workers had to clear the tree as it was covering several graves.

I wonder what response the perpetrators of this act would have if they returned home and found a tree or maybe a shed had been taken down in their garden.

I hope that if anyone knows anything about what happened at Spring Lane cemetery, they will contact Shepway council. Either that, or maybe the person responsible will own up – shame on you!

High cost of our winter walks

It is no surprise that Shepway council spent almost £170,000 more than it received in enforcing parking fines (last week's Yourshepway).

For several years I, along with others, looked forward to walks along the beach at Dymchurch once the season was over.

Leaving the car in the parking area by the Martello tower (free during winter weekends), we would enjoy a bracing stroll before walking into the town for a beer, a bite to eat and maybe a newspaper to read in front of the fire on our return home.

All this ended last year when I inadvertently contributed £30 to the Shepway car park operating costs. I had missed the announcement that parking charges were to be introduced and was astonished to find a penalty ticket on the car when we returned from our walk.

There can't have been more than a dozen cars in the park that Sunday morning, far fewer than previously – which should have alerted me to the change.

Shepway apparently pays someone to spend the whole day checking the few vehicles parked in the November rain – the combined revenue from parking fees and fines cannot possibly match the costs involved in enforcing the charges.

We no longer drive to Dymchurch on winter Sundays, preferring not to contribute to the council's ill-thought-out policy. Apart from the people who go elsewhere rather than pay up, the losers are the shops, cafés and pubs in Dymchurch.

This is no doubt repeated throughout most places in Shepway, with almost empty car parks and declining business revenues. Instead of encouraging winter trade through a pro-active policy of support for local businesses, the council does its best to drive custom away.

Punitive car park charges encourage on-street parking and reduce revenues for local traders, particularly during the off-season months.

Residents of Shepway get little enough for their high council taxes – for environmental services to throw away our money like this is unforgivable.

The vast majority will have lived short lives full of suffering, inside damp, windowless sheds, where thousands are packed together, standing in their own filth.

Many will die during the brief growing cycle, rotting where they fall. Disease, broken bones and heart attacks are commonplace.

It is only when the dead exceed a certain number that they are tested for bird flu. With H5N1 and other diseases of the animal farming industry in the news, there couldn't be a better time to go veggie.

You can help to reduce cancer risk

With so many scientific studies being published all the time about what increases or reduces your cancer risk, it is sometimes difficult to know how seriously each one should be taken.

The expert report recently launched by World Cancer Research Fund (WCRF) took five years to compile and involved a process that included more than 200 scientists, with the World Health Organization and UNICEF among the observers.

Using an open, independent and transparent process to review all the evidence, readers can be confident that the WCRF recommendations for preventing cancer represent the best advice available anywhere in the world today.

Now that the report has been published, individuals need to use the information as part of daily life for better health.

It is not WCRF's role to tell anyone how to live their lives. All we have tried to do is ensure everyone is empowered to make choices that reduce cancer risk.

It is also important to remember that these recommendations are not a case of 'all or nothing'. The evidence is clear that even making modest differences to your lifestyle can reduce your cancer risk.

So, if you are not physically active at all at the moment, do a little bit.

If you do not want to give up processed meat, try cutting down.

I firmly believe that the knowledge that we can do things today to reduce our cancer risk in the future is a really positive one.

Bouverie's warm opening reception

As centre manager of the new Bouverie Place shopping centre, I had the pleasure of opening the shopping centre on Monday, November 26, with the help of Michael Howard MP and key representatives from our local authority, including the mayor, Cllr Peter Gane, and leader of Shepway council, Cllr Robert Bliss.

The shopping centre looks fantastic and I want to thank the residents of Folkestone for their warm and enthusiastic welcome.

I would like to thank all the retailers in the shopping centre who have been resourceful and helpful, particularly in the run-up to the big opening and I would like to thank my team for their hard work and commitment making sure Bouverie Place's first day ran smoothly.

Preparing for the opening of this highly anticipated shopping centre was indeed challenging, but with the help of excellent on-site teams and many local businesses, the day was a complete success.

For their support of the opening day ceremony and launch event I would particularly like to thank Sharon Davis-McClaren and her team at Starbucks.

Also Stuart Emery, Daniel Wright and the team at the Leas Cliff Hall, Paul Marshall at MVS Video, Maria Smith at Wild For Flowers, photographer Ady Kerry and Alan Myatt, the excellent town crier!

I am very excited to be a part of a dynamic town centre and I wish all the retailers in Folkestone a successful Christmas season.

Kate's living for these days

Southern songstress Kate Campbell transforms religious themes into some lyrical inspirations

THE unique sound of Kate Campbell, both vocal and lyrical, has been compared to some of music's most legendary acts.

Described as "a major talent" by the music press, Campbell is considered to have the same grasp of her voice and writing as Emmylou Harris and Lucinda Williams.

The singer/songwriter from Alabama is renowned for her clever, mood-intensive sketches of life in America's Deep South, accurately portraying lazy, small-town life and the hard-working attitudes of country folk.

On her latest album, For The Living Of These Days, Campbell was asked to produce something similar to 2001's Wandering Strange, on which she recast the hymns of her youth in the Baptist church using her favourite style – 60s soul with a heavy dose of Muscle Shoals sound.

She enlisted the help of legendary musician Spooner Oldham and the result was an album which captured special moments in the studio more than any other.

Inspired by her own spiritual journey, Campbell used Christianity's teachings about how human beings treat each other as a theme.

Woody Guthrie's Jesus Christ opens the album and explores the idea that Christ's message would have had the same result if he had preached it to citizens of New York in 1940. Campbell used this as a foundation for the rest of the album.

The same idea is used in Kris Kristofferson's They Killed Him and Bobby Braddock's Would They Love Him Down in Shreveport.

The idea of denying events like the Holocaust and Trail of Tears is explored in Campbell's own Terrible Mercy.

There are songs which discuss allowing a higher power to guide us and the album also includes The Prayer of Thomas Merton, which is a Trappist monk's prayer set to music.

Campbell discovered that repeated listening brought out more and deeper meanings from each song, which she hoped would help to offer guidance, encouragement and hope for the living of these days.

Campbell will be supported by The Haley Sisters from West Yorkshire. From an early age, Jo-Ann and Becky followed in their parents' footsteps and showed an interest in music, particularly country.

BOO HEWERDINE

Saturday, December 8
Orange Street Music Club, Canterbury

PROLIFIC songwriter Boo Hewerdine will be performing a diverse range of songs in Canterbury this weekend.

For his latest album, Harmonograph, Hewerdine decided to record his own versions of songs he had written for, or with, other people, which gave him a choice of about 400, written for the likes of Eddi Reader, Natalie Imbruglia, Mel C and Alex Parks.

Hewerdine started writing songs as a child and formed The Bible in the mid-1980s. One of their releases, Glorybound, was praised by author Nick Hornby in his book, 31 Songs.

The band split when on the verge of success and Hewerdine embarked on a solo career that would see him writing the film scores for Fever Pitch and TwentyFourSeven.

Various described as a folk, country and pop singer, he has recorded two albums with Nick Drake's producer, John Wood.

The gig starts at 8pm. Tickets cost £12 and £10. To book, phone 01227 760801, or Atkin Guitars on 01227 719933.

FOR an evening of weird and wonderful comedy, catch The Ornate Johnsons when they arrive in Canterbury.

The critically acclaimed troupe of five comedy performers have received rave reviews for their unique sketches and songs.

With a comedy style compared to the likes of Not The Nine O'clock News and The Two Ronnies, The Ornate Johnsons have earned a reputation as an industry favourite.

Praised as being "the best sketch group since Monty Python" by comedy legend Jerry Sadowitz, the troupe enjoyed a sell-out, two-week residency at London's renowned Soho Theatre.

Brad won't be paranoid

BY SHEREEN LOW

DESPITE being one of the most photographed men on the planet, Brad Pitt is happy to take the constant attention in his stride.

"I know the deal and I understand the trade-off. There are great perks to what we do. We get to travel and see the world. And we manage it," says the actor of his lifestyle with Angelina Jolie and their family.

"The only time it becomes unmanageable is when it's a full-frontal attack on the kids. Unfortunately, there is no line concerning family these days and that concerns me. That's the only thing that really bothers me."

And even after being jumped on by a fan at the Venice Film Festival, where he walked away with the award for best actor, Pitt insists he won't be stepping up his security.

"I don't want to change my life because of paranoia."

"I could point out that we can be very vulnerable in these situations and there are a couple of people out there not playing with a full deck, but I'm not changing anything."

The Babel star has had relationships with a string of high profile actresses. He was engaged to Gwyneth Paltrow, married to Jennifer Aniston and now has four children – three adopted – with Jolie, who he met on the set of Mr & Mrs Smith.

"She's the best sounding board I have, and I value her opinion immensely," he says of the Tomb Raider actress.

"I rely on it. She annoys me sometimes, but she's good."

as American outlaw Jesse James in The Assassination Of Jesse James By The Coward Robert Ford.

"I love this kind of film, it breathes and allows for human moments. It's my favourite kind of story telling," he explains.

"The nice thing for me, which I was surprised by and didn't realise how much it would mean to me, was doing something that was related to the area where I grew up."

"I see Missouri come up on screen and it still gives me a little bit of pleasure. It's just nice to have some connection to the place that shaped me."

Coming from the same sort of background helped him prepare for the role, he says.

"I had a nice advantage. I drew from the cadence and temper of the people and was comfortable with horses, so I was ready to go," he added.

HOME: Brad Pitt particularly enjoyed his latest project because of its links to Missouri, where he grew up

During filming, he got into the role by obtaining real-life props belonging to the outlaw, such as his Smith & Wesson gun and his ring.

With one award for the part already under his belt, this could be the beginning of an Oscar nod – but Pitt says he doesn't look that far ahead.

"I don't play the Oscars game," he says. "I had a Golden Globe about a decade ago, but they (the awards) are never the focus."

"I really believe it's how you personally feel. You just want to feel that you've given it your best at the end of the day."

Cosy charm of the Cotswolds

■ BY PETER WOODMAN

THERE is something comforting about the Cotswolds, an area as warm and welcoming as a woolly Witney blanket.

Indeed it was wool that built the Cotswolds – the heavy fleeces from local sheep being much in demand and leading to the wealth and growth of the district in the Middle Ages.

The legacy for visitors today is the number of beautiful country houses that have grown out of the area's historical wealth. The other joy is the lovely unspoilt countryside and the resounding place names.

Stow-on-the-Wold, Bourton-on-the-Water, Chipping Campden, Upper Slaughter – no area does names quite like the Cotswolds.

Our first stop was Thornbury Castle, just north of Bristol, a residence that once hosted Henry VIII and his second wife Anne Boleyn.

The castle is just a short walk from the main town, and opposite an imposing church. Thornbury Castle was recently voted second only to Ashford Castle in Ireland as the best castle hotel in Europe, it's not hard to see why.

We worked our way up a winding staircase to our immaculate room and later enjoyed walks in the pretty grounds.

Thornbury was a good spot for exploring the southern Gloucestershire part of the Cotswolds. There are gardens galore around here, and we dropped in at Abbey House Gardens in Malmesbury.

BEAUTIFUL: The town of Painswick, Gloucestershire, is one of the many stunning sites to be enjoyed in the area

From Thornbury we were also able to see Painswick Rococo Garden. This is the only rococo garden in the UK – one where there is no one particular style but a series of different features shown off flamboyantly.

Painswick's gardens were created in the 18th century and were almost lost when they were abandoned in 1960. Happily, a restoration began in 1984 and the garden is now controlled by a registered charitable trust. Definitely worth a stop.

Even more steeped in history is Berkeley Castle between Bristol and Gloucester. It was here that Edward II met a grisly end in 1327, with legend having it that the unfortunate monarch was dispatched somewhat spectacularly by the use of a red-hot poker.

I came away recalling the famous lines from 1066 And All That about Edward's murder – "That night horrible screams were heard coming from Berkeley Castle and in the morning the king was horribly dead."

Our second, and last, stop was right in the heart of the Cotswolds at the Lords of the Manor country house hotel at Upper Slaughter.

The name, and that of Lower Slaughter, refers not to some Berkeley Castle-type atrocity, but to the Anglo-Saxon word slohtre which means 'muddy place'.

Well, it was not too muddy when we were there, although we had a real downpour just after checking in at Lords of the Manor, which is a former rectory converted to a very comfortable place to stay.

The next day we headed for Owlpen Manor at Dursley – almost hidden in a valley – which is small but of great interest.

It is believed that Henry VI's Queen, Margaret of Anjou, stayed at Owlpen the night before the 1471 Battle of Tewkesbury where her son Edward was slain in the Wars of the Roses.

Needless to say, Margaret's ghost is said to haunt Owlpen. Accommodation is available next to the manor house in what is, as you'd expect from the Cotswolds, a gloriously secluded setting.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS
(Jan 21 - Feb 19)

A SHORT trip to see a relative or friend could be in the stars over the countdown to Christmas and you will benefit from the change of scenery. Before you make any plans, check in with work. An exciting position that seems perfectly suited to your creative abilities could become available. It's more important to build up your cash reserves.

TAURUS
(Apr 21 - May 21)

WHO you know makes more difference than what you know this week. If you need a few extra favours, ask a colleague who is in a position to grant them. Partnerships prove positive and providential between now and the end of the year. If you've been thinking of getting engaged this would be a great time to pop the question.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug 23)

ROMANTIC opportunities arrive through intellectual activities over the next three weeks. Fortunately, your gift with words enables you to seduce anyone who crosses your path. Don't be fooled, you will not have the upper hand in this relationship. Decorating your home for Christmas will be a wonderful way to draw your family.

SCORPIO
(Oct 24 - Nov 22)

IDEAS for making money come fast and furious. A secret love affair brings you a thrill of pleasure. It's easy to be kind and generous with others when your private life is so blissful. People will wonder if you've had a health or beauty treatment in the weeks ahead; you've never looked better. Don't let a pessimistic pal stop you making a small investment.

PISCES
(Feb 20 - Mar 20)

THE next three weeks demand that you consider your professional future. You've got to create a strategy for climbing the ladder of success. Now is the time to showcase your abilities. Starting your own business can be as simple as borrowing money from the bank. Fortunately, there's a market for your creative vision.

GEMINI
(May 22 - Jun 22)

MAKING plans with a business or romantic partner will prove fruitful this week. The two of you are eager to move onward and upward. If you're on your own, you could meet someone special at a cultural or Christmas event. Your work situation becomes more pleasant between now and the end of the year. Everybody is entering into the festive spirit.

VIRGO
(Aug 24 - Sep 23)

MAKING arrangements for a family Christmas could take up the lion's share of your time. Resist the temptation to do everything yourself. Relatives will be happy to help. You'll get a marvellous response from an advertisement, blog, or mass mailing. Don't be too discouraging toward a relative or neighbour who wants to try something new.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov 23 - Dec 21)

IF you feel like you're up banging your head against a brick wall, explain your feelings to your nearest and dearest. An authority figure may not be willing to give you time off. Perhaps they suspect you are looking for better job opportunities. A well connected friend could introduce you to an influential person in the next few days.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr 20)

YOU'LL have a marvellous opportunity to spread your wings and fly this week. A change of scene will put you in a good mood and might even put you in the path of love. Your expertise may not be acknowledged at work. Keep tension at bay lots of entertainment. An unexpected windfall or bonus helps you afford life's little luxuries.

CANCER
(Jun 23 - Jul 23)

IDEAS for improving your health are worth following over the countdown to Christmas. Domestic life will prove blissful now, particularly after a relative comes forward to relieve you of chores. If you're looking for love, you could find it between now and the end of the year. Keep your eyes open for an enigmatic figure at a nightclub.

LIBRA
(Sep 24 - Oct 23)

CHRISTMAS has always been a busy time for you, and the weeks ahead will prove no exception. Efforts related to sales and advertising will prove positive and profitable. Spending more time on the activities and people you love will put you on a festive high so delegate mundane chores to neighbours, friends, and family members.

CAPRICORN
(Dec 22 - Jan 20)

TRUST your intuition when dealing with a neighbour or relative. Although the two of you have very different approaches to life, you can make great progress by working together. A woman may ask you to take on a thankless job, but by getting on with it with a minimum fuss you could earn yourself a great reputation and maybe a big bonus.

Are you clicking on to television of the future?

BY CHRIS THOMSON

IT has long been billed as the future for the delivery of TV shows – and a new deal between the UK's top terrestrial broadcasters looks set finally to make on-demand, online TV a mainstream platform.

The BBC, ITV and Channel 4 last week confirmed all three were to join forces to launch a unified service, bringing together the cream of their programming and making it accessible for all with broadband web connections.

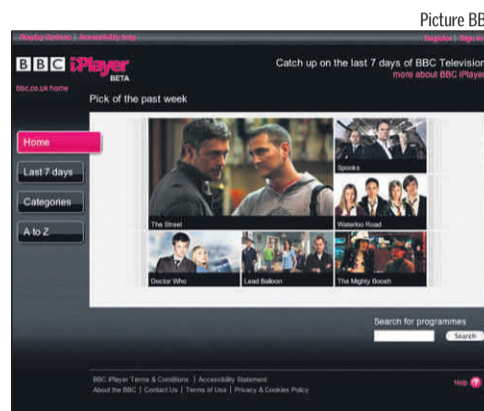

In a nutshell it will provide a one-stop shop for internet users to access their favourite TV shows. And with the power of the three biggest TV firms backing it, it is expected to pack an almighty punch on the online landscape.

The service will allow viewers to catch up on shows they have missed as well as accessing classic episodes of top shows.

It is expected the programming on offer will be available in a variety of different methods, including downloading – where the programme will go on to your hard drive for you to view at your leisure; streaming – which will allow the viewer access while connected to the site; and rental – the show will be downloaded but only work for a limited amount of time.

Some content will be free, but it is expected accessing certain TV favourites will incur a cost. Not every show broadcast by the three will be made available due to certain rights issues, particularly with regard to sport and movies.

All three media giants have existing on-demand services currently available. The BBC's iPlayer, ITV's catch-up service and Channel 4's 4oD will all continue to operate, in addition to the merged new service.

ONLINE: BBC's iPlayer will continue to operate

As an idea of the costs involved, BBC shows are currently free to access, while Channel 4 puts TV shows from the last 30 days on 4oD for free. Other shows cost 99p to rent and films can be accessed from £1.99.

The so-called 'micro-payments' (small charges perceived to be acceptable by web users) are seen as vital to maintain to ensure widespread take-up, as opposed to expensive monthly or annual price plans.

The as-yet-unnamed new service – which still has to be approved by the BBC Trust and the boards of ITV and Channel 4 – is hoped to go live next year.

Similar services are offered by other companies in what is becoming an increasingly competitive marketplace – made possible by the widespread home take-up of fast broadband connections and solid security systems to prevent programming being spread illegally; a copyright concern which had long bothered the industry.

Companies such as BT – via its BT Vision platform – have invested heavily in sports rights in a bid to gain a foothold on the emerging market.

It snapped up the rights to hundreds of 'near-live' Premiership football matches (full games broadcast soon after the match has finished) in order to lure customers to a package which includes broadband access, broadband-delivered TV and online phone services.

Sky, a long-time innovator in pushing the boundaries of new technology, has also had its Sky Anytime platform up and running for years – allowing existing subscribers to its digital TV services online, on-demand access to film and sport coverage via their PC.

John Smith, chief executive of BBC Worldwide – the commercial arm of the broadcaster – described the new joint project as an "historic partnership".

He said: "The new service will contain some of the very best of the UK's content for consumers to view in one place, which will be both easy to use and great fun."

There was good news last week too for viewers with Freeview – the non-subscription set-top digital TV box.

ITV, the BBC, Channel 4 and Five have all agreed in principle to launch high-definition services on Freeview between 2009 and 2012 – when traditional broadcasts will be replaced by the much-heralded switch-over to digital.

Broadcast watchdog Ofcom has proposed to increase the capacity of digital terrestrial television – services where the signal is sent to existing aerials rather than via satellite or cable – thus enabling high-definition broadcasts and the prospect of more channels.

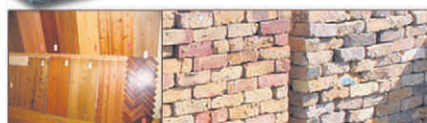

High-definition TV is only available for those with HD-ready televisions and, currently, at additional cost via the likes of Sky. Current Freeview users would have to upgrade their existing set-top box to take advantage of the possible HD channels, however.

NORTH KENT funk rock outfit Tokyo Jo joined the county's fastest-growing music site this month, uploading a clip of a typically energy-packed performance.

Famous for charismatic live shows and funky riff-based tunes, the four-piece have been dubbed Gravesend's answer to the Red Hot Chilli Peppers.

It's true that a fat and funky bass sound and John Frusciante-inspired riffs give Tokyo Jo an eminently danceable quality, but this is no tribute band.

The band add more than a little Gravesend growl to the mix, resulting in a sound that is all their own.

Join Tokyo Jo and hundreds of other unsigned bands from across the county on www.yourkenttv.co.uk now by uploading your clips to the site. Go to www.yourkenttv.co.uk and look under music/bands.

Police join merchandise bandwagon

POLICE have come under fire for spending £10,000 on setting up an online gift shop selling baby clothes inscribed with prison slogans.

The bodysuits and bibs have the slogans out at last and I've been inside for nine months written on them.

Kent police are also offering official looking merchandise – such as ties, cufflinks and pens – which critics say could be used by criminals to impersonate officers.

The force says the shopping facility has been set up to help boost funds for crime prevention, while meeting a “growing demand” for police-related products.

But Matthew Elliott, of the Taxpayers' Alliance branded the scheme a waste of money.

He said: “Kent police is out of touch if it thinks merchandising is more important than crime-fighting.”

Playgroup volunteer Sarah Newman, from Ashford, said: “Old folk could be taken in by someone with these accessories. They look authentic.”

Neil Harmon, from Margate, added: “This should not be so high profile. We are constantly being told crime fighting is a priority, but it seems that merchandising has now become more important.

“It makes the police look rather ridiculous in my view.”

A police spokesman said the force believed it was the first in the country to open an online gift shop.

The products were chosen by its own staff, working with business partner

■ BY NICK AMES

Internova, which runs similar ventures for the London Fire Brigade and the London Transport Museum.

They also include copies of historical Kent police photographs on display in the force's museum at Chatham Dockyard.

Adult T-shirts with fingerprint designs cost from £13 to £16, baby bibs are on sale for £9, and wooden police toys cost up to £10.

On one day the shop received 29 orders worth about £700.

“This isn't a new venture for Kent police,” said the spokesman. “It's not to buy equipment like riot shields – it's about building a stream of revenue for community projects.”

Profits would go towards projects such as a youth mentoring scheme and the Kent People's Trust charity.

He said the force was confident the shop would recoup its costs in the first year.

BABYSUIT: Many find the goods on offer offensive

Soldiers to Afghanistan

THE Kent-based 1st Battalion Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders are due to be deployed to Afghanistan for six months early in the New Year.

The troops, based at Howe Barracks in Canterbury, have previously been sent to Iraq in 2004, where they were involved in the training of local security forces.

The 36 Engineer Regiment, based in Maidstone, is expected to return from Afghanistan in February or March after completing a six-month tour of duty.

Security is 'too soft'

AN MP has warned terrorists could use Ebbsfleet International to escape the UK – because they see its security as a “soft touch”.

Adam Holloway, Tory MP for Gravesend, raised concerns in Parliament after he found there were no plans to have a permanently-manned immigration control at the new £100 million rail station.

Instead the Border and Immigration Service can man Ebbsfleet when “the need arises”.

Officers on the lookout for intoxicated drivers

MORE police officers will be patrolling Kent's roads on the lookout for drunk or drugged-up drivers this December.

Over the next month officers from the road policing unit of Kent police will be joining local officers around the county, carrying out stop checks on motorways and towns to catch intoxicated motorists.

The police arrest 250 people every month in Kent for drink and drugged driving offences. Drivers caught driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs get a mandatory ban, a fine up to £5,000, or a possible prison sentence.

As part of the stop checks, officers will also be making sure that drivers and passengers are wearing seatbelts, and watching out for drivers using mobiles.

Not wearing a seatbelt will result in a £30 fine, and drivers holding a mobile phone will get a £60 fine plus three penalty points on their licence, the fine rising to between £1,000 and £2,500 for drivers of buses, coaches and heavy goods vehicles.

Statistics show that one in six people killed on the roads is attributable to someone driving under the influence of drink or drugs.

Anyone who has information regarding such drivers can speak anonymously to Kent Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

PROPERTY NEWS

Discover a house's true potential

ONE OF the most uttered phrases when viewing a property has to be 'It's got potential'. But what exactly does that mean?

We all like to voice our ideas about extending the kitchen or adding extra space by converting the loft, but finding out if that's achievable and at what cost can be expensive and time-consuming, especially for the uninitiated.

So it's interesting to learn about a new service being offered by London architects betternest.co.uk.

They will carry out a property potential report at a fixed cost of £395 on any terraced or semi-detached house in England or Wales within five days.

"The secret," according to Betternest's chief executive Simon Smith, "lies in exploiting the permitted development rights attached to every property."

To you and me this means what can be done without having to obtain planning permission.

The report then suggests possible alterations, the costs involved and the likely increase in property value upon completion – a useful tool for vendors or buyers.

What a difference a rate can make

RESEARCH from Nationwide Building Society reveals that three out of four people in the UK don't understand the monetary value a one per cent difference in mortgage rates can make.

When given details of two five-year mortgage deals to compare, the largest group of respondents (28 per cent) said they thought the difference on a £120,000 mortgage with an interest rate at 5.6 per cent compared with a rate of 6.6 per cent would be between £500 and £2,000. Another 23 per cent said they had no idea. Only a quarter of people correctly identified that the difference could be more than £4,000.

The research also showed that men are more mortgage-savvy than women, with double the amount answering correctly. Experience also seems to count – 31 per cent of the 55-64 age group guessed correctly, whereas only 16 per cent of 18-24-year-olds realised the amount a one per cent difference in rate could make.

Regionally, the South East, along with the Midlands and Scotland, had the highest score of 28 per cent.

OPPORTUNITY: It's a buyers' market in Bulgaria, which is hotting up as more people recognise the investment potential of an area that is not saturated like France or Spain

Bulgaria makes overseas dream a reality for Brits

■ BY JENNY SANTOS

THE Bulgarian property market is hotting up as more and more British investors choose the mountains and beaches of one of the EU's newest member states to buy second homes.

Bulgaria is increasingly appealing to Brits buying abroad. They are drawn by diverse property opportunities stretching from Black Sea coastal resorts to the capital Sofia and burgeoning ski resorts such as Bansko, Borovets and Pamporovo.

Attracted by cheap property, ever-improving flights and the low cost of living, it seems the word is out about the Balkan gem.

Jeff Cole and his partner Joanne Allen, both 46 and from Cliftonville, wanted to spend money that they had inherited on a property they could use for holidays and which would also provide a nest egg for later in life.

Mr Cole said: "We wanted somewhere that had potential as a year-round destination for maximum rental return."

After researching different areas via the internet, they settled on the fashionable ski resort of Pamporovo, despite the fact that neither of them had skied, let alone visited Bulgaria before.

In fact, buying their apartment off-plan, the couple didn't make the trip until they had paid out about half of the purchase price in May this year. And they weren't disappointed.

Mr Cole said: "Our initial apprehension disappeared when we saw the area, the build quality and met friendly, English-speaking people."

The couple bought their one-bedroom studio apartment for £27,000 and anticipate a rental income of between £200 and £250 a week.

With a top-end meal including wine costing under £10 and a McDonald's Big Mac meal less than £1, holiday costs are enticingly low.

Pamporovo, at 1,650 metres, has an enviable snow record and holds the title of 'sunniest ski resort in Europe' to boot.

Leaving communism behind and embracing the race towards tourism, Bulgarian authorities and private investors are spending millions on developing facilities.

Martin Rose-King, Ashford-based property agent for Estate-PM, said: "The last two years have seen the British emergence and massive growth in the Bulgarian property market."

"I've seen some properties double in value over the last 18 months and forecasts predict an annual 20 per cent growth."

Lynda Ogden, of Ebsfleet Properties, agrees: "Bulgaria offers excellent value for money. We're currently selling a development in the beach and golf resort of Byala, with prices starting from £25,000."

And that can only be good news for those priced out of traditional overseas property markets in the likes of Spain and France.

MOTORS NEWS

TV star Ben supports the 'Landie' challenge

EXPLORER and TV Presenter Ben Fogle and Barretts Land Rover have urged budding adventurers in Ashford and Canterbury to apply for Land Rover's 'Go Beyond' Bursary.

Launched in partnership with the Royal Geographical Society, the bursary brings £10,000, plus use of a Land Rover Defender, for up to six people to mount a geographical expedition – anything from a project in the Scottish Highlands to retracing Hannibal's Alpine march.

Barretts' dealer principal Mark Nicholas said: "The 110 Defender will make even the toughest challenge possible, with its supreme capability for tackling any terrain in its path."

Peugeot Canterbury aiming for a hat-trick

CANTERBURY Peugeot dealer Robins & Day is on course for a hat-trick at a prestigious awards ceremony.

Next month's event is open to Peugeot's own 32 wholly-owned franchises and sets tough targets in customer service and sales, in which Robins & Day has beaten its rivals two years' running.

Steve Moody, new car sales manager at the garage in Rhodas Town, said: "We've had a particularly good year with cars like the new Peugeot 308 [pictured], so we are hopeful of a hat-trick."

VW Blue Motions car club clean-up under way

MAIDSTONE Car Club is changing up a gear in its drive for cleaner and greener travel.

The organisation, run by Kent County Council in conjunction with the fast-expanding Streetcar club, has invested in two new VW Polo Blue Motion diesel hatchbacks, emitting as little as 99g of CO2/km – lower than the 104 of the petrol-electric hybrid Toyota Prius.

KCC staff, local residents and businesses can hire the cars for business or leisure at a cost of £3.95 an hour.

VISUALLY APPEALING: It's an improvement over its predecessor, the Frontera, but can the new Vauxhall Antara win over supporters of the Land Rover Freelander 2?

Vauxhall badge clashes with green welly look

TAPING over the badges on the Antara could spark a big sales boost for Vauxhall's new 4x4.

Unfortunately, buyers aspiring to the green welly wearing, country-set image that goes with a smart city dwelling sports utility vehicle (SUV), are simply not Vauxhall people.

Their pin-up is the Land Rover Freelander 2, which is not so much dearer than the Antara (from £19,995) and has proper off-road ability, even if you don't need it.

On the other hand, Vauxhall's belated replacement for the unlamented Frontera looks classier than its everyday badge suggests.

It has smart details such as Range Rover-style vents on the front wings, wicked alloys, a high-quality interior and nice fixtures and fittings with alloy highlights, although I hate how the alloy band on the centre display reflects upwards onto the raked windscreen.

In the tradition of versatile 'Flex' interiors in Vauxhall people carriers, the interior has highly adaptable seating and a big boot – there is even an optional bike rack that retracts into the rear bumper when not in use.

It is all a far cry from the Frontera, which started life as a pick-up from General Motors' Japanese Isuzu brand. It never really escaped the rut before its demise in 2003, after 12 years on the UK market, leaving Vauxhall dealers to stew while rivals stacked up lucrative SUV sales.

But their torment is over now; on top of a favourable visual impression, the Antara is good on road. It feels taut and corners well, despite a lofty stance, yet the ride quality is comfortable.

Should you want to go off-road – though few 4x4 buyers actually do – there is also hill descent control.

The 148bhp diesel as tested here, courtesy of FG Barnes of Maidstone, is the engine to go for. It is lively, if a little noisy – it badly needs a sixth gear for quieter motorway cruising – but far superior to the weaker and thirstier 138bhp 2.4 petrol alternative, offered to tempt buyers with a sub-£20,000 lead-in price for the Antara line-up.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

FAMILY CARS FROM JAPAN

NEED a 'family car' but not keen to run with the herd? Then check out these three used Japanese models – although two are actually built in the UK. Each shows the traditional Japanese virtues of generous equipment, reliability and easy ownership, but there is also more space, flair and zest about them than seen in earlier generations. Used car buyers will also be able to pick from a variety of engine packages – including decent diesels at last – as well as hatchback, saloon and capacious estate body styles.

TOYOTA AVENTIS

TOYOTA'S previous Avensis was a re-worked Carina E with a name change to suggest it was unrelated to one of the most boring family cars of the period. The second-generation Avensis, launched in 2003, is a different animal. It drives well, has good engines, offers value for money, includes a lot of Lexus refinement technology and plays the 'Made in Britain' card strongly – very well made it is too in a huge modern plant at Burnaston in Derbyshire.

NISSAN PRIMERA

NISSAN'S final Primera was launched in 2002 and could not contrast more with its staid predecessors. The wind-cheating teardrop lines made it one of the most distinctive cars in this class, perhaps too much so for some – hastening its demise – but it offers great driving pleasure, terrific value and reliability, plus good Renault-sourced turbodiesels for endurance and economy. The Sunderland-built range was latterly streamlined to concentrate on the hatchback and the spacious and rather more elegant estate.

MAZDA6

MAZDA'S revival on the back of the '6' is well-documented and that's no exaggeration. This spin-off from the Ford Mondeo inherited that car's excellent chassis, but Mazda engineers instilled a distinctive driver appeal and sharp design inside and outside. The interior carried forward into a whole new line-up of Mazda models, while the space-efficiency of the body is excellent, whether you opt for saloon, hatchback or stylish estate. The diesels are good but the petrol units can be coarse.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Ferry company is top of the class, three times

P&O FERRIES has been named Britain's best overall ferry company for the second year running at the prestigious British Travel Awards.

Simon Johnson, director of sales and marketing, said: "We are thrilled as these are the only travel awards combining both trade and consumer votes."

P&O Ferries took top honours as best cross-Channel operator and best ferry company categories for its services from Dover to Calais, Hull to Rotterdam and Zeebrugge and Portsmouth to Bilbao.

It was also named best overall ferry company at the awards ceremony in London.

Excellent performance sparks investment

A MASSIVE growth in car and passenger traffic has sparked a wave of optimism at SeaFrance Dover-Calais Ferries.

The French cross-Channel operator saw a 13 per cent increase in car traffic from January to September, compared with a market growth of 5.6 per cent.

In the same period, passenger traffic rose by 5.5 per cent in comparison with a overall market increase of 3 per cent.

Managing director Robin Wilkins said: "The overall short sea route has done very well this year and I am pleased to confirm SeaFrance has consistently outperformed the market for both cars and passengers."

This has enabled SeaFrance to continue to invest in its fleet programme.

The company is in the process of looking into shipyard availability in Europe for the construction of a new vessel with increased garage space.

College dinner will be five delicious courses

THANET and East Kent Chamber will be holding its annual Christmas lunch at Thanet College.

The meal, which starts at 12.30pm on Wednesday, December 5, will be held in the Gary Rhodes-inspired Pegwell Suite and will see five-star cuisine served.

The meal promises to be the perfect setting in which to entertain.

The college welcomes groups of 10 or individual bookings. To make a reservation, visit www.tekc.co.uk.

Advertising is a sign of the times

■ BY MARIJKE COX

BUSINESSES across the county could benefit from free and impartial guidance from Business Link in Kent.

The success story of Deal's Vez Govender is an example of the kind of help they can give and shows how the company can assist in the growth of an idea and make it a thriving reality.

Arriving from South Africa with only £1,000, Mr Govender worked his way up to management level in the Kent branch of a national business.

After five years he decided to move on and take a closer look at the advertising industry, where he found an area with potential for an entrepreneur like himself.

Having found an idea, Mr Govender needed help in making it a reality, and so he approached Business Link.

Accessed locally and throughout the country, Business Link provides the information, advice and support many businesses need to start and maintain a successful business.

The assistance Mr Govender received from adviser Yevi Ilangakoon enabled him to carry out his plans and launch his company, Billboards in Motion.

Based in Deal, it now has customers throughout the county, including advertising and PR agencies, Government-funded organisations and charities, along with private clients.

Mr Govender came up with his initial idea after noticing that A-frame trucks had been used to carry adverts along predetermined road routes for some time but had to work against a number of negative factors.

He said: "They didn't travel far, could not illuminate at night, were not clearly visible

ON BOARD: Expert advice from Business Link enabled Vez Govender to make his business ideas a reality during adverse weather conditions and the quality of print was poor."

Deciding on a solution to these problems, Mr Govender contacted Business Link to help him work on his idea, which was an advertising vehicle with an illuminated scrolling screen.

He said: "I'd heard that Business Link provided such support but didn't know what to expect from them."

"But I figured there was no harm in trying them out since it was free of charge, so I made contact with Yevi."

"He provided me with in-depth knowledge on a marketing and sales strategy, which motivated me and gave me the confidence in myself to launch the business I had in mind."

Mr Govender was given guidance on operations, finance, strategy and planning, and his skills training needs were also discussed.

Yevi Ilangakoon, from Business Link, said: "Vaz is the sort of driven individual who will always make a success of himself."

"Working with him has been extremely satisfying and it's great that Business Link has been able to offer assistance and guidance to help Billboards in Motion develop."

WOODWORK: Ellis Remy came close to scoring for the home side, but his shot hit the post

Soaked pitch leaves Invicta on slide

FOOTBALL

Folkestone Invicta 0 Hendon 4

A SEVENTH consecutive league game without a win sent Folkestone Invicta into the Ryman Premier's bottom three as high-flying Hendon outclassed the hosts at a sodden Buzzlines Stadium.

The defeat was Invicta's heaviest of the season and means Neil Cugley's men have picked up three points from a possible 21 since beating Leyton in early October.

In the home line-up Invicta gave debuts to Richard Shittu and Charlie Glyde.

The visitors came into the game high on confidence and just one point off pace at the top of the league, and they made the most of Folkestone's malaise.

Heavy rain in the days leading up to the game made the Buzzlines pitch heavy and disrupted both sides' play.

Hendon adjusted faster and they opened the scoring in the 22nd minute when Casey MacLaren's strike beat Invicta goalkeeper Charlie Mitten, before going in off the upright. Wayne O'Sullivan made it 2-0 just after the break.

Invicta came close to mustering an immediate reply, but Ellis Remy saw his shot come back off the inside of the post.

Minutes later, the game was effectively ended when striker Brian Haule increased Hendon's lead with a great finish, before O'Sullivan grabbed his second late on.

Scoring goals has been Invicta's problem all season and it was the fourth successive game Folkestone have failed to score, with the last league goal coming back in October.

The winless run has seen the club slide to within a point of the relegation zone.

But in an extremely tight division, the ten clubs above Folkestone are separated by a mere three points.

A win on Saturday away to AFC Hornchurch would send Invicta above their opponents, who go into the game in 14th place.

Hess voted the best Gill ever

ANDY Hessenthaler has been voted as Gillingham's greatest-ever player in a poll to mark the Professional Football Association's centenary.

The PFA polled supporters of every league club to find the definitive fans' favourite.

Hessenthaler, now manager at Dover Athletic, made more than 350 appearances for the club.

He told Dover's website: "If you think about the great players who have played for Gillingham – Steve Bruce to name one – it's no mean achievement and I'm delighted – it's a great honour.

"Gillingham are my club and they'll always be in my heart."

Deal fight back in a 10-goal thriller

DEAL TOWN staged an amazing comeback at the weekend to earn a 5-5 draw against high-flying Thamesmead Town.

Town were 3-0 down after Rikki Cable hit a 25-minute hat-trick for Thamesmead at the Charles Sports Ground. However, Deal hit back just before half-time with goals from Mark Pollard and Danny Smith.

Only three minutes of the second half had gone when Deal equalised courtesy of an own goal from Lewis Watts. Then Aaron Robinson scored after 58 minutes to put Deal in the lead for the first time.

Richard Dimmock equalised for Thamesmead, before Deal thought they had sealed a remarkable win when John Utterson hit the fifth with three minutes remaining.

However, in the final minute, Cable added his fourth of the day to salvage a point and keep his side second in the Kent Premier League.

The result leaves Deal in tenth in the Kent league ahead of Saturday's away trip to take on Hythe Town.

My striker is going nowhere, Buster!

FOOTBALL

■ BY GLENN PEARSON

Slade Green 1 Hythe Town 0

HYTE manager Paul Fisk has issued a hands-off warning to any potential suitors for star striker Buster Smissen who has hit 23 goals so far this season.

The former Sittingbourne forward has been banging the goals in at the Reachfields Stadium and despite a disappointing 1-0 defeat at the hands of Slade Green on Saturday, Fisk has been impressed with Smissen's contributions this season.

He said: "He has been brilliant for us. I knew he was a good goalscorer when we signed him from Sittingbourne.

"He is happy at the moment, he is fit and scoring goals and it makes a big difference if you have someone up front who can score you a goal.

"People have probably been looking at him, and why wouldn't they? At the moment he is with us and if anyone does want him, they will have to come and speak to us. We are happy with him and we want to keep him."

Hythe have been going quietly about their business in the Kent Premier League this season, with Fisk's side sitting fourth in the league and with six games in hand on leaders Beckenham Town.

Fisk said: "We had a good FA Cup run and have picked up some good results, but we have not played enough league games as yet.

"We are just keeping ourselves to ourselves and just steadily picking up points and we are happy with that.

"There are more teams that are favoured to win this league, so we are going quietly about our business.

"At the start of the season, our target was to get in the top six and to be competitive at the top. In the last couple of seasons we have been scrapping in there, so we want to be really competing up there and then see what happens from there.

"We have worked really hard on fitness and that has showed in the last 15 minutes of games when we have scored goals.

"That is down to fitness coach James Harding and also the players, who should get credit, as they often come in and just run and

Picture SIMON HARRIS

DETERMINED: Hythe Town are gunning for a top-six finish and Paul Fisk aims lead them out of the Kent League in two years have worked hard on it. It is really pleasing."

The facilities at the Reachfields Stadium are geared for promotion from the Kent League and is something Fisk and his squad are aiming for.

He said: "The ground is good enough, although it probably needs a little bit of work on it. I am sure the finances would also need working on for us to get promotion, but things are in place.

"The chairman, Paul Marklaand, has worked hard over the years, but I know promotion is his goal, whether that comes this year or next year I don't know."

Results prove we're on the up, says Hess

FOOTBALL

BY YOURDOVER REPORTER

DOVER ATHLETIC have won 12 of their 15 games in the league this season, but it was a defeat last week which convinced boss Andy Hessenthaler his side have what it takes to be successful.

The Whites lost 1-0 to Sutton United in the FA Trophy, three days after the two sides drew 1-1 at Crabble.

The opponents play two tiers above Dover and the way his players performed delighted Hessenthaler.

He said: "We matched them and on another night we would have gone through.

"It shows how far we have come and it proves that when we go up – I say that because that's how confident I feel – the squad plus maybe a couple of additions will be good enough for the next division.

"We are building for next year, I believe we will win the league but there is lots of work to be done."

The Whites were knocked off top spot on Saturday after their game at Walton Casuals was called off due to a waterlogged pitch.

It allowed Tooting & Mitcham to leapfrog Hessenthaler's side at the Ryman South summit before Monday night's game at The Crabble against Walton & Hersham.

For the match report and reaction from the game visit www.yourdover.co.uk.

This weekend Dover have another home game, as they entertain Worthing on Saturday.

The south coast team firmly established themselves as title contenders with a win against Kingstonian last Saturday, their sixth in a row. They also possess the best defensive record in the division, with ten goals conceded in 14 games.

Kick-off at The Crabble is at 3pm.

CRUCIAL: After two defeats, Deal & Betteshanger (in black) claimed a much-needed win

AFTER two successive defeats Deal & Betteshanger got back to winning ways with a hard-earned win against Old Dunstonians.

Recent losses against rivals Gravesend and Dover had stunted Deal's challenge at the top of the London Three South East table. With another fixture against Dover coming up in ten days, Deal coach Martyn Michael felt it was a vital game to win.

He said: "We could quite easily have lost, and then again against Dover, so it was quite a big result for us. The guys were struggling with confidence before the game and it showed early on, we were a bit awestruck but pulled our socks up and got back to the way we want to play rugby."

Dunstonians dominated the opening 15 minutes and took the lead with a deserved try.

Going behind stirred the visitors, who gradually played their way back into the game. The pressure came to nothing in the first half as a combination of stout defending from the home side and handling errors from Deal thwarted their attempts to draw level.

The change of ends did not alter the flow of the game and Deal got their reward on 55 minutes when Dave Farrell crossed the line. Tom Best converted to edge the away team ahead, 7-5.

The fly-half scored a try ten minutes later and added a penalty to extend the lead to ten points and put the game out of Old Dunstonian's reach.

Michael was particularly pleased with the maturity of the 18-year-old, who combined at half-back with 17-year-old Ollie Schofield after Mick O'Donnell limped off with an ankle injury.

Deal & Bettes next game is away to Dover on December 15.

SPORT IN BRIEF

Folks clinch low-scoring win despite dire conditions

DESPITE awful playing conditions at the New Burlington ground, Folkestone RFC came out on top against Charlton Park, winning 7-3.

In horrendous weather, Charlton Park got off to a quick start with a penalty to take a 3-0 lead.

However, Folkestone worked hard and got back into the game in the second half when John Eustace got the all-important try in the corner to take the lead which was converted. Park hit back, but the Folkestone side held firm to grab victory.

Top darts ace Wayne set to warm up winter league

DOVER Invitational Darts players have an extra incentive to win the winter league after the committee announced Wayne 'Hawaii' 501' Mardle will present the trophies.

The world number eight will also play a series of exhibition 701 matches against players from the leagues on the presentation night in March.

In the clash of the unbeaten teams in division one, Boars Head Diamonds beat Bull A 6-3 to keep their 100 per cent record and move two points clear at the top.

Dover continue assault on summit of rugby league

DOVER RFC ran in nine tries to thrash Tonbridge Juddian 49-5 at Crabble to maintain their strong challenge in London South East Three.

On a heavy pitch the hosts adjusted well, with Ben Sedgwick claiming a hat-trick of tries as the visitors were overrun.

The victory was the Sharks' third in a row and kept them within three points of the top.

They entertain Winchester on Saturday in the fourth round of the EDF Senior Vase.

Boars Head dominant as they tame Bull B

BOARS Head Diamonds continued their sparkling form in the Dover Invitational Darts League with a 9-0 hammering of division one's basement team Bull B.

Diamonds' tenth win in as many games kept their two-point lead at the top.

Second-placed Bull A maintained the pressure with a 6-3 win against Three Cups, but Dublin Man of War suffered a shock 5-4 defeat to Archer.

In division two, Boars Head B maintained their flawless season with a 6-3 win against Golden Lion A.
